Formally the International Telecommunications Safety Conference (ITSC)

Portland, Maine – September 27 - 29, 2011

Registration Package

Brought to you by the...

Previously known as the National Telecommunications Safety Panel (NTSP), the organization name was changed to EHSCP in May, 2011 to incorporate the environmental work performed by the organization in support of the communications industry and the inclusion of environmental issues in the annual conference program.

2011 Host

2011 Environmental, Health & Safety International Communications Conference

2011 Environmental, Health & Safety International Communications Conference
September 27 to 29, 2011

Dear Fellow EH&S Professionals:

On behalf of the Environmental, Health & Safety Communications Panel (EHSCP), previously known as the National Telecommunications Safety Panel (NTSP), it is my pleasure to invite you to attend the 2011 Environmental, Health & Safety International Communications Conference at the beautiful historic Portland Regency Hotel & Spa in Portland, Maine. The conference will be held from September 27 to 29, 2011. We expect a large turnout and we want you to be a part of this great program; so sign up now!

The agenda includes a wide variety of safety, health and environmental topics relevant to today's communications industry. Don't miss this opportunity to meet, share, and learn from the experiences of other EH&S professionals who deal with the same challenges we all experience every day. The preliminary program topics include:

EH&S Regulatory Review	EH&S Natural Disaster Response
Human Factors in Incident Investigations	Workplace Violence
Inter-Carrier RF Coordination	OSHA Compliance
Contractor Screening and Oversight	DOT, Fleet & Vehicle Safety
Ergonomics	Distracted Driving
Meth Lab Awareness for Telecom	New Issues in Smoking Policies
Fall Protection	Air Issues – Engines, Boilers & Refrigerants
Distracted Driving	Off-Road Vehicle Operations
Working in Extreme Temperatures	Water Discharges Sustainability

Please be sure to read through the registration package thoroughly and register early to assure a seat at the conference.

I want to give a big thanks to our planning and host committees for their hard work over the last few months. Barbara Patton of AT&T chairs the program committee that is developing the conference agenda. Gary Schongar of Verizon chairs the host committee. All committee members are working diligently to provide attendees with enjoyable activities for a memorable and enriching conference experience.

- Cruise on Portland's Casco Bay aboard the Casablanca followed by a group dinner or lobster bake at a local Portland restaurant on Wednesday, September 28, 2011

Conference Check-In

A conference check-in desk will be open from 3:00 pm to 7:00 pm on Monday, September 26, 2011 in the lobby of the Portland Regency. On September 27, 2011, the conference check-in desk will be open at 7:00 am.

Conference Capacity

Maximum conference seating at the Portland Regency is approximately 125, so be sure to book early. Maximum capacity on the boat tour is 149. Registration for the conference and events will be managed on a first come first served basis.

Attire

Attire is business casual for all conference activities. Conference attendees will be provided an EHSCP conference badge at check-in. Please wear this badge to identify yourself at all conference events.

Professional Certification

Certified Industrial Hygienist (CIH) and Certified Safety Panel (CSP) have been applied for and are historically granted. This year we will also apply for Certified Hazardous Materials Manager (CHMM) credits.

Networking Opportunities

Monday, September 26, 2011 (Optional)

For people arriving a little early, an optional golf networking outing is planned for Monday afternoon. All skill levels are welcome and prizes will be awarded. Please sign up early as this event has become increasingly popular. Green fees will be $40 per person and include a cart. Club rentals will be $25 per set and will be available at the course. Additional details are provided on page 11. We guarantee you will have a winning experience!

2011 Environmental, Health & Safety International Communications Conference

Tuesday, September 27, 2011

A welcome reception is scheduled for Tuesday evening at the Portland Regency Hotel and Spa for you and a guest. Appetizers and drinks will be provided. The reception will be an excellent opportunity to renew existing professional contacts and make new ones.

Wednesday, September 28, 2011

The Wednesday evening event is a conference tradition and one everyone looks forward to attending. This year, we will be taking a sunset cruise aboard the Casablanca, an 85-foot two-deck harbor cruiser for a seaside view of the Casco Bay islands, lighthouses and the evening wharf front. Appetizers and refreshments will be served from the ship's galley. The Casablanca departs at 5:30 pm from the Custom House Wharf, just a few blocks from the conference hotel. The boat tour will be followed by a group dinner or lobster bake at one of Portland's fine dining establishments.

The Casablanca has two fully enclosed decks in the event that the early fall weather is less than cooperative. Be sure to bring a jacket.

Rooms Are Limited

Make Reservations Early

We have reserved a block of rooms at a negotiated room rate of $145 (US currency) per night for Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday nights. The rate is guaranteed for the block of rooms through Wednesday, August 31, 2011. Rates for reservations made after this date, or exceeding the number of rooms in the block contracted for, are based on availability.

Book your reservations directly with the Portland Regency Hotel & Spa by calling the hotel directly at (207) 774-4200. When making reservations, guests should identify themselves as attendees of the Environmental, Health & Safety International Communications Conference. The reservation will be guaranteed to your credit card. The Portland Regency Hotel and Spa accepts all major credit cards.

If you are required to make reservations through your company's corporate travel program, be sure to contact the Portland Regency Hotel and Spa to ensure you receive the discounted EHSCP rate.

Note: Since the original registration package was issued, we were able to slightly increase the block of rooms at the original $145 rate. When that block is full, we were able to secure some additional rooms, but at a higher rate of $229 ($269 for Monday night). Please call Kristina Slocum directly at the Regency at (207) 221-5914 if you attempt to book after the block of rooms has been filled.

Check-in is available after 3:00 pm the day of arrival and check-out is 12:00 pm the day of departure. Late check-out may be accommodated by checking with the hotel staff.

Cancellation of reservations must be made 48 hours prior to your arrival date to avoid charges. No refunds for late arrivals, early departures or no shows if the hotel has not been notified 24 hours in advance.

Hotel parking is valet parking only. The parking rate is $12 per day (neighboring garages may be more expensive). Daily parking is $5.

The Portland Regency Hotel and Spa is certified by the State of Maine as an Environmental Leader in the hospitality industry. It uses traditional locks avoiding the waste generated by plastic keycards and their hybrid courtesy shuttle reduces usage of fossil fuels. The Regency provides the utmost in comfort and service using sustainable means.

Travel Directions

Portland Regency Hotel and Spa
20 Milk Street
Portland, ME 04101

By Air

The airports at Portland, Maine, Boston, Massachusetts and Manchester, New Hampshire serve the Portland, Maine area. The best option is to fly into the Portland International Jetport which is located just three miles from downtown Portland. Air Canada, AirTran, Continental Airlines, Delta Air Lines, JetBlue, United and U.S. Airways provide service into Portland.

Free ground transportation is provided by the hotel from the Jetport and Portland's transportation hubs by calling (207) 774-4200.

Boston's Logan International Airport and Manchester's Manchester-Boston Regional Airport offer other additional air travel options within reasonable proximity. Logan airport is approximately one hundred miles south of Portland and approximately a two hour drive. Manchester airport is just over ninety miles away and about a 1½ hour drive.

By Car

Portland is located in the southern part of the state of Maine, situated only one hour north from the border of Maine and New Hampshire. Hotel Parking is valet parking only. The parking rate is $12 per day(neighboring garages may be more expensive).

South (Logan Airport): To get to the hotel from the south, take interstate 95 northbound into Maine until exit 44. Then take interstate 295 northbound to exit 7 which brings you to the Franklin Arterial. Follow the Franklin Arterial for approximately one mile. Turn right onto Fore Street and right onto Market Street. The Portland Regency is on the right.

North: From the north, follow interstate 95 northbound to exit 7 which takes you to the Franklin Arterial. Follow the Franklin Arterial for approximately one mile. Turn right onto Fore Street and right onto Market Street. The Portland Regency is on the right.

Manchester, NH Airport: From the airport, follow signs to New Hampshire Route 101 eastbound towards Seacoast/Portsmouth, NH which merges briefly into interstate 93 before separating eastbound once again. Travel just over thirty miles to interstate 95 northbound. Follow the above directions from the south.

By Train

The Amtrak Downeaster operates five daily round trips between Portland and Boston's North Station. The Downeaster offers you a comfortable, stress free ride getting you from Boston to Portland here in 2 1/2 hours.

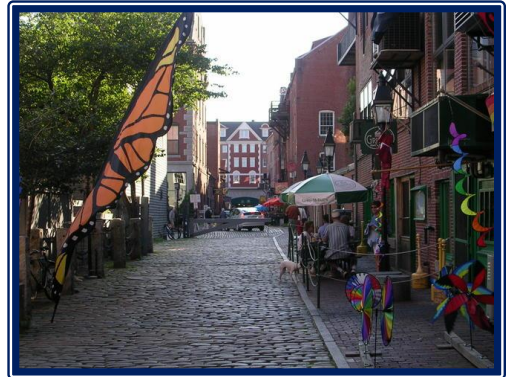

Portland, Maine

Portland, the largest city in the state of Maine, is the one region where you will find all of the state's most alluring features: great dining and shopping; hopping nightlife; outdoor recreation; historical and cultural attractions; and stunning natural beauty. Its small scale, accessible waterfront, Old World ambience and youthful vibe are heady combinations that have propelled Portland to the top of many national lists of best places to visit.

Here, a modern city brushes sleeves with Victorian neighborhoods and young professionals and old salts nod to each other over their morning coffee. Cobblestone streets house high-end boutiques and fishing rigs and cruise ships tie up alongside each other.

Long known and loved for its 3 staple L's – Lobsters, Lighthouses and L.L Bean – you'll have to add other letters to fully describe Maine's largest metropolitan area these days. 'F' for instance, as in Food, Funk and Fashion. And

'E' as in Entrepreneurial, Eco-friendly and Edgy. The resulting fusion is generating a buzz about Greater Portland and creating a unique energy that's drawing accolades from travel writers and visitors alike. If you haven't already experienced Portland and surroundings, which Henry Wadsworth Longfellow called a "Jewel by the Sea", let us welcome you here for our conference – you'll be glad you came.

Waterfront

Surrounded by water on three sides, jutting out into island-studded Casco Bay, Portland offers some of the best water access to islands, lighthouses and historic forts in Maine. Greater Portland is home to seven lighthouses, those silent testaments to Maine's enduring connection to the sea and a favorite subject of photographers from around the world. On a stroll through the Old Port, one of the country's most successful warehouse revitalization efforts, you'll hear the squall of gulls and the low moan of bell buoys while you smell the salt brine that wafts off the bay. Portland's waterfront is still very much a working port, an integral and thriving part of the local economy, which is one of the authentic things that visitors find so appealing. In Portland, you're never far from the sea and its changeable influences.

Architecture

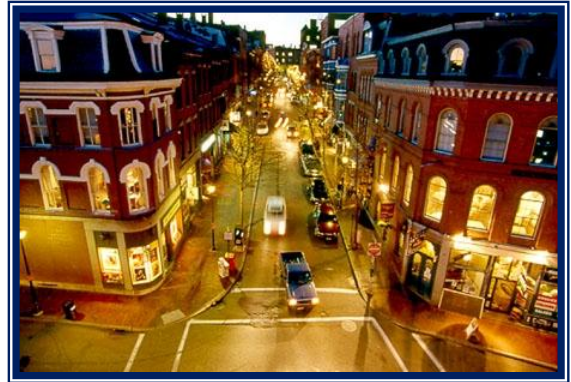

With unswerving attention to landmark preservation, Portland has maintained an historic urban landscape with a modern sensibility. The city is replete with fascinating architecture and the means to delve into its past, with guided and written tours of Portland's historic neighborhoods. Although the area was settled in the 1600s, much of the city's historic architecture is Victorian, built after the devastating Fourth of July fire of 1866 leveled the city. History is also kept alive with museum homes and maritime museums chronicling the emergence of the area from a trading and fishing settlement into one of the nation's most active seaports.

Visual Arts and Museums

Portland's official Arts District runs along a stretch of Congress Street, the main thoroughfare that connects the East and West End neighborhoods, but the city's flourishing art scene knows no bounds. Traditional landscapes, which have been the foundation of Maine art, now share the limelight with cutting-edge contemporary work in a wide range of media. The venerable Portland Museum of Art, celebrating three centuries of art and architecture, is known as one of the best art museums in New England.

Other local museums and places of historical interest include the Neal S. Dow House, the Victoria Mansion, the Wadsworth-Longfellow House, the Maine Narrow Gauge Railroad Museum, the McLellan-Sweat Mansion and the Old Port Exchange. If time permits, consider visiting the Portland Head Light lighthouse, the oldest lighthouse in the country.

Performance Arts

Performance arts also energize the Portland area where the Old Port comes to life at night with an eclectic mix of live music in its pubs and concert halls. Portland has its own symphony orchestra, choral arts society, professional theater and dance troupes, even a repertory opera company. Greater Portland is the perfect combination of small-town intimacy with a heavy dose of large metropolitan culture.

Outdoor Recreation

Casco Bay's flourishing art scene is complemented by an abundant variety of outdoor recreational pursuits so accessible that you can kayak, bike, golf or swim all day and still have time to take in a show in the evening. Within 10 minutes of downtown Portland you can visit the state's largest salt marsh, stroll swim at a state beach, bird watch on a nature sanctuary and photograph Portland Head Light, the oldest lighthouse in Maine. Hike a wooded trail through autumn foliage to discover a hidden waterfall. Every season of the year offers its unique pleasures, but early fall is blessed with distinct charms that delight the senses.

Weather

Portland is on a peninsula in Casco Bay on the Gulf of Maine and the climate is tempered by the Atlantic Ocean. In the early fall, average high temperatures are in the mid-sixties with average lows on the upper to mid-forties. The old adage, “If you don’t like the weather in Maine, wait a minute, it will change” applies when choosing a wardrobe for this trip. Don’t forget your favorite sweater or jacket for the evenings to thwart the cool evening ocean breezes.

Other Attractions

Greater Portland is fun for the whole family. You can ride on an historic streetcar, steam train or Model-T at one of the region’s transportation museums. From amusement parks to wildlife parks, agricultural fairs to folk life festivals, there are so many things to keep all ages busy.

Hope to see you here!

You don’t have to give up the quintessential Maine coast to enjoy all that Greater Portland has to offer – islands, lighthouses, beaches, and surf crashing onto a rocky shore are all within proximity to Portland’s vibrant, historic downtown. As you expand your professional knowledge and insight, you can also experience the Maine region where arts meet adventure!
